New procedures that require the removal and repositioning of current equipment are implemented. DOJ staffers compose legal briefs to seal any conceivable paperwork regarding the history of the penitentiary, Cornucopia House, the backgrounds of the Agents, and activity at the location. UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND

IN THE MATTER OF THE SEARCH OF:

Dr. Edward C. Papenfuse State Archives Building
350 Rowe Blvd, Annapolis, MD 21401

(Secure Records Storage – Sublevel Restricted Collections)

APPLICATION AND AFFIDAVIT FOR SEARCH WARRANT

I, Special Agent Elena R. Douglas, being duly sworn, depose and state:

I am a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation assigned to the Miami Field Office (Florida), currently detailed to a joint federal-state task force investigating potential violations of federal law, including but not limited to 18 U.S.C. §§ 2251–2252 and 18 U.S.C. § 242.

This application is submitted at the direction of Assistant United States Attorney Antony Pitzerelli, District of Maryland.

PROBABLE CAUSE

There is probable cause to believe that evidence, fruits, and instrumentalities of federal crimes involving the exploitation and endangerment of minors are located within restricted archival collections maintained at the Dr. Edward C. Papenfuse State Archives Building in Annapolis, Maryland.

The materials sought consist of transferred Child Protective Services records originating from the Maryland Department of Human Services, including files that:

- Exhibit highly consistent narrative language across unrelated cases, including phrasing and descriptive elements unlikely to arise independently
- Were formally closed as “unfounded” or “administratively resolved” despite internal memoranda recommending continued investigation
- Were removed from standard indexing and catalog systems prior to archival transfer

- Contain repeated references to “Cornucopia House” (condemned circa 2001), for which no complete licensing, inspection, or closure documentation exists within state records

A confidential source (CS-2), formerly employed by the Maryland Department of Human Services, advised that a subset of these records was transferred under special handling designations, including instructions that certain files were “not to be re-circulated” and required supervisory override for access.

Preliminary inquiry indicates that these materials are presently stored within Sublevel Restricted Collections, access-controlled and not available through standard archival request procedures.

ITEMS TO BE SEIZED

The property to be seized includes:

- All archival records, files, and associated media relating to:
 - Subjects identified as [REDACTED]
 - Caseworker ID #12121 (“K. Houghton”)
 - “Cornucopia House”
- Any documents reflecting internal review, suppression, or reclassification of CPS investigations prior to archival transfer
- Transfer logs, accession records, and access control documentation associated with restricted CPS materials
- Any records stored outside or excluded from the Archives’ public or internal catalog systems

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS

Given the sensitivity of the materials and the potential involvement of state personnel, the government requests authorization to:

- Execute the warrant without prior notification to Archives administrative staff
- Access restricted sublevel storage areas, including locked or secured collections
- Seize materials not reflected in official catalog or accession systems
- Conduct the search at any time, day or night

REQUEST FOR SEALING

The government requests that this warrant, affidavit, and all related filings be sealed upon execution. Disclosure may compromise an ongoing federal investigation and risk the alteration or destruction of evidence.

Respectfully submitted,

A. Pitzerelli

Antony Pitzerelli
Assistant United States Attorney
District of Maryland

ORDER

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds probable cause and hereby authorizes the issuance of this warrant.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

LEGAL FICTIONS 101

In every instance, you first must assess risk to the Program. If evidence suggests the existence of the Program or the unnatural, MASTICATE's orders are to reinterpret and/or remove that evidence. Luckily, the signs of each of your involvement in 2001 are mission-critical intel in need of the same treatment. I will personally assign the consequences of THE BLAME GAME. It comes last and it will be under my direct supervision.

1) ASSESS: The Program has no problem with evidence that helps solve the murders, provided none of it can be traced back to you or the unnatural. Therefore, MASTICATE's first priority is thorough, competent investigation. Before any of that evidence enters the public consciousness, however, you must launder identifying characteristics out of the information using one of 2 methods.

2) REINTERPRET: Branding a piece of evidence with a false narrative requires manipulating the three factions with stakes in the Cornucopia House investigation: Maryland State Police, Cecil County Sheriff, and the press. Manipulating these factions into "safe" interpretations of events provides the most seamless cover to you and the Program, especially if multiple sanitized narratives contradict and compete with one another. This is ideal for counter-intelligence.

3) REMOVE: Dangerous facts that cannot be reinterpreted must disappear. Records can be altered. Paperwork can be stolen and bureaucracy can be manipulated to redact information under sweeping national security laws. The Program finds reinterpretation preferable, but your team has been named lead investigators precisely because it becomes easier to engineer innocuous "filing errors." These methods can be risky, criminal and obvious. Even in the event of success, the deletion of evidence arouses suspicion and possible subsequent investigations, but it's better than answering questions in court.

NOTE - SANCTIONS: If perception management and evidence tampering fails, the Program employs terminal options. Owing to compartmentalization, you are required to perform these tasks. You can make threats, sabotage reputations, or outright disappear people. If it comes to extremes, I should make it clear for one thing that any such methods that draw too much attention threaten to put you next on the shit list.
